

LEGISLATURE FAST DRAWING TO CLOSE

Railway Policy Will be Outlined To Premier—Fence Ordinance Not to be Amended—Questions of the Opposition Are Satisfactorily Answered.

Today's sessions of the legislature will centre around the announcement of the railway policy, which will be brought down by Premier Rutherford this afternoon. The results of the election will be reported upon today by the committee fixing the boundaries of the thirty-three constituencies. A large number of other bills will be cleared up this afternoon and this evening. The last session of the session, tomorrow morning and prorogation will take place either tomorrow afternoon or on Friday evening.

Before the budget was taken up bills were considered and some questions answered.

Amendment to Fence Ordinance. In Committee of the whole, the bill to amend the fence ordinance, which was discussed by Premier Rutherford and J. Robertson, High River.

A. R. Robertson, of Lethbridge; W. F. Puffer, Lethbridge; J. A. Simpson, Inglewood; R. T. Telford, Lethbridge.

Mr. Hobert and Mr. Puffer thought that different conditions in different parts of the province and different legislation necessary. The former recommended that no change be made in the present ordinance for the present.

The bill provided the abolition of the fence ordinance, provided that growing crops, or crops growing, must be at least eight feet from the fence. A amendment by John T. Meek, Red Deer, was that the fence be eight feet instead of eight feet.

Mr. Hobert moved that the chairman leave the chair and make no report. This resolution was carried on a vote of 10 to 9. The bill then died.

The Well-Bounty Act.

The bill for the Well-Bounty act was passed through the Legislature, the whole. It provides that there shall be paid out of the general revenue of the province, for the payment of a warrant or warrants in favor of any person by the minister, and issued by a duly authorized officer, a bounty on timber wolves of $1 per head, a bounty on prairie wolves of $1 per head, and a bounty on water wolves of $1 per head.

Mr. Hobert asked if the intent was to discontinue the bounty after the completion of printed voters' lists.

Premier Rutherford said that he could not tell when the bounties would be discontinued in the matter of a discontinuation.

Mr. Robertson inquired:

—Under the Railway Corporation Act, section 50, 1906, is that the amount taken from the general treasury by the different companies since the commencement of the act?

—What is the amount taken and what are the respective amounts?

—What amount of taxes have been refunded and what companies and for what years?

—The companies are in arrears and what amounts?

The answers were as follows:

—No such act, Chap. 30, of the statutes of Alberta, was passed to supplement the revenue of the crown from the revenues of the Alberta. Amount collected $26,671.53.

—2-Alberta and Irrigation Co., $23,291.53; Canadian Pacific, $1,829.00; Canadian National, $26,671.53. (Applause.)

CHEAP MONEY FOR RURAL SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

Premier Rutherford seems to have found a very more expedient way of enabling rural school districts to borrow money cheaply than by guaranteeing the bonds. His proposal, untried and untried, endorsed by the Legislature, is to allow the Dominion to turn over to the funds received from the sale of school lands to the Province. This money he proposes to loan to the rural school districts at 5 per cent. As the districts are to be compelled to repay the loan, it will be a good investment for them. The Province, so stands to gain, as it now receives only 3 per cent. on the money from the Dominion.

The Opposition rated the statement, of course, that the illustrations the advantages of having rural lands administered by the Province. The flaw in their reasoning, however, is in not tracing the effect back to the cause. It is school lands that are given away, and because the Dominion spends a million a year to get people to come and take them. Free land is the magnet that draws people to the western country. The school lands have been coming and are coming that rural lands have been saleable an saleable. When no one can take up the free land no one buys the land.

In respect of the school lands, the Province is in the happy position of the man who holds property in a community which some one else is to be born. And in this case the Dominion is in the inferior, or better, position. It would be right to rely upon the sale of lands for our revenues we may do either of two things: sell a large portion of them every year, or go into debt until we could sell them. As these are the only two ways, if we raise a million dollars revenue, we would then be necessary to sell for million dollars' worth of land, supposing the payment can be made in five years. And the Province has a great number of industrial conditions instead of a corrective imposed on untriedly developed conditions.

RIGHT MAN IN THE RIGHT PLACE.

Next to six million dollars of public money have been expended by the Provincial Government up to date. About half of it went to pay for roads, bridges, ferries, extensive telephones, and other public works and buildings which are necessary to economical public service, respectively, in a public sense, and particularly useful as attracting to Alberta that intelligent class of settlers who are looking for a place where public buildings are signs of decent pride and public spirit in the Province. The prime need of Alberta was for good means of communication between farmland districts and market. That need has been met, and two and one-half million dollars went into public works and improvements.

This large expenditure has been under the charge of Hon. W. H. Cushing, and it is his task to make the most of it by large experience and proven ability. In his office he has made good as an honest, prudent and courageous spender of public money. Of irreproachable character, he has devoted to the service of the Province his entire life, and has an exceptionally sound, developed and ripened under the bracing conditions of industrial and commercial life. He is the kind of man who should be in charge of Alberta's largest spending department.

RETURN WITH THANKS.

As "Anology Number One" the Calgary Herald has in its paternal relationship to the railway system, the longer the school lands remain cold, the better for the schools. But if the influx of population ceased, or even slightly decreased, the school land would be in full bloom, valueless. The man who had land in this day was poor, because he had to pay the annual taxes on it, and the taxes on the school land lay mostly to the cause land had no market value. When free land lay idle men were uninterested, not going to buy school land or any other. It is the labor that has been put into the school lands of the West that has created a demand for other than homestead land, school land is eluded.

Consequently, so long as population continues to increase, land will continue to rise in value; and the longer the school lands remain cold, the better for the schools. But if the influx of population ceased, or even slightly decreased, the school land would remain the school fund. Great as is the immigration to the West, it has by no means reached a point where it is large enough to warrant the withdrawal of funds for this effect. Much less to have a purchasing power on the lands which we are not trying to get people to take for nothing. More than any other politically possible event, the withdrawal of the world that an immigrant is prepared to buy land would paralyse immigration to Western Canada. Yet such is the announcement we would have to make if the Province relied on the sale of land for its revenues.

A GOOD IDEA.

The provincial government demands that polls in cities be kept open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. is a good one and would be an accommodation to a large number of voters who find it inconvenient to vote during the ordinarily prescribed hours. At the same time, it is a good idea. This would frequently occurs at a large poll, so scattering the voting over a longer period. The voter should be given every reasonably possible facility to poll his vote.

A MANUFACTURER'S VIEW.

In the light of the discussion evoked by the Alberta Workmen's Compensation act it is of interest to note that discussion that took place at the annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' association held in Montreal last September upon the same subject.

The association is composed of a body of employers, mostly all of whom would be affected in some way by the Alberta measure, and a committee of the association was appointed to consider the whole subject in view of the agitation going on in some of the provinces for the enactment of legislation similar to these lines.

The committee made a report concerning the adoption of the principle of the English act on which the Alberta act is based, though the report makes no statement as to whether or not it is in either of these cases that the recommendation of this report a heated discussion took place among the manufacturers as to the advisability of adopting the committee's report.

In the end, the committee's report was adopted and the committee, a body deeply moved to make no recommendations on the subject. Some of the members, however, were strongly in favor of the adoption of the committee's recommendations and advised that the subject be treated upon a broader basis than the one upon the proceedings says—

"Louis Simpson, superintendent of the Montreal Gas company's plant in the city, quoted in the report, as follows: 'I am in favor of the bill. It is better that we would have legislation that will be mutually binding on all the provinces. It is better for us to be on the same page. The Dominion parliament had enacted a workmen's compensation act, and some similar law had been on foot in the eastern provinces. It is better that we, the manufacturers, were certain to be enacted before long, and he appealed to the Manufacturers' association to support the bill.'

The Opposition rated the statement, of course, that the illustrations the advantages of having rural lands administered by the Province. The flaw in their reasoning, however, is in not tracing the effect back to the cause. It is school lands that are given away, and because the Dominion spends a million a year to get people to come and take them. Free land is the magnet that draws people to the western country.
